Book 4-3

Storyteller: Story time kids. What's the story today, Grandma? Well, let's find out. What's Caillou up to now? Today's story is called Caillou's Rainy Day.

Mommy: We're gonna run a few errands together. With that rain outside we have to dress up to keep dry.

Caillou: We can jump in all the puddles. Ah, oh! This feels funny.

Mommy: Here, let me help you.

Caillou: It's okay. I wanna do it. Look!
I did it.

Mommy: Great! Need some help with your buttons? Let's go!

Storyteller: But Caillou had forgotten something very important.

Caillou: Mommy,

Mommy: Yes, dear.

Caillou: I have to go to the bathroom.

Mommy: I'll wait for you here.

Storyteller: Caillou rushed off to the bathroom. On his way there, something caught his attention.

Caillou: You, watch out!

Daddy: Caillou, Caillou, Caillou!

Caillou: Daddy.

Daddy: What are you doing here?

Caillou: I...I was... going to the bathroom.
Oh, no, I've got to go now. I really have to go.

Caillou: Daddy, look, I'm an airplane!

Daddy: May I see your airplane, please?
Let's land your airplane back in the airport okay? It will still be here when you come back. And have you forgotten about Mommy?

Caillou: Mommy, I forgot. Did Mommy wait for me?

Storyteller: Caillou came back quickly to meet his Mommy. But when he got there, she was putting away the raincoats.

Caillou: Mommy, I'm here. Aren't we going any more?

Mommy: Oh, no, we are still going. But look!

Storyteller: The sun was shining. So, Caillou and his Mommy didn't need raincoats. But there were still plenty of puddles.

Caillou: This one first and this one goes in here. Mommy, I think you forgot something.

Caillou: Yeah, puddles. Look! Mommy.

Mommy: I hope you'll have fun but we have to run errands now

Mommy: You know what we can do now.
We can leave tracks on the way to the store. Look!
